

Comprehensive advice from an experienced and specialized team can help cushion the impact of sensitive issues arising from business insolvency and reorganization proceedings.

The high complexity of business reorganization and bankruptcy cases requires multidisciplinary efforts. Our specialized team works in close cooperation with other CMA practices so as to provide effective and ample support no matter how complex the case.

CMA's business insolvency and reorganization legal work includes services such as:

- Representing debtors in reorganization and bankruptcy proceedings;
- Drafting judicial and extrajudicial reorganization plans and negotiating with creditors;
- Drafting and negotiating standstill agreements;
- Collection of debt owed by companies undergoing judicial or extrajudicial reorganization and bankruptcy proceedings and taking legal action against primary and secondary debtors;
- Business reorganization;
- Non-business insolvency proceedings;
- Legal advice to court-appointed administrators in judicial reorganization and bankruptcy proceedings;
- Advice on the purchase of assets from insolvent companies and on DIP Financing.
